

California Renewal Living Foundation

Partner Overview | South Santa Clara County

CRLF is developing community-based housing and stabilization capacity in South Santa Clara County for adults navigating homelessness, recovery, justice-system reentry, health-related transitions, and other periods of instability. We are building alongside the organizations and providers already serving Gilroy, Morgan Hill, San Martin, and surrounding communities.

WHAT WE PROVIDE

Recuperative Care / Medical Respite

A safe place for eligible adults recovering after hospitalization or an acute health event.

Transitional Housing

Support for residents moving forward from homelessness, recovery, reentry, or hospital discharge toward permanent housing.

Reentry and Community Reintegration

A stabilization pathway after incarceration, connected to existing reentry, behavioral health, healthcare, and benefits systems.

Practical Stability

Housing navigation, benefits assistance, independent-living skills, employment readiness, and community connections.

Included in every CRLF home

- Furnished room and basic household necessities
- Meals and groceries
- Basic personal care items
- On-site laundry
- Wi-Fi, plus access to a computer or device to get online for housing, employment, and benefits tasks
- Quiet hours, so the home stays restful for people recovering and rebuilding

A place for your team to meet your client

Our program house is open to nonprofit health and community partners who need somewhere to meet with their clients. Case managers, clinicians, and navigators can meet a resident on site rather than arranging transportation.

WHO WE WANT TO PARTNER WITH

Referral and care partners

Hospitals, clinics, behavioral health, case managers, social-service agencies, reentry programs.

Employment and community partners

Employers, workforce programs, education providers, legal services, and benefits assistance.

Housing partners

Housing providers, landlords, property owners, and navigators moving people to permanent housing.

Funding and contracting partners

Health plans, public agencies, foundations, and organizations seeking a qualified South County partner.

REFERRALS	COORDINATION	CONTRACTING	COMMUNITY
Clear pathways into and out of housing.	Connect residents to existing services.	Housing, care, or stabilization contracts.	Lasting connections and independence.

CRLF is rooted in South County and committed to strengthening, not duplicating, the network already serving local residents.

Let's build the pathway together

Community • Respect
Lasting Stability • Futures Renewed

California Renewal Living Foundation
(408) 413-9614 • info@carenewal.org • www.carenewal.org
222 Cochrane Plaza #232, Morgan Hill, CA 95037

The residential program address is kept private for resident safety and dignity. California Renewal Living Foundation, dba South County Renewal Living, is a California nonprofit public benefit corporation; 501(c)(3) recognition is pending.